NEW SCHOOL YEAR

Here we are at the start of a new year once again. We welcome some new faces to IHAS along with all of last year's students except one. Here is the list of students. Please keep them and the teachers on your prayer list this year that our commitment to Jesus will grow this year. James Strain, Brianna Ratliff, Alyna Ratliff, Eliya Djahon, Logan Strain, Milo Hale, Jack Hiltunen, Sa-El Refuse, Kaj Wanttaja, Lilly Strain, Maddie Hiltunen, EmmiLou Hale, Lesley Nkundimana, Val Djahon, Faith Majada, Esme Yell, Jasper Ingabire, Leissy Nkundimana.

2023-24 IHAS T-SHIRTS

This year's t-shirt order was due TODAY. If you missed it, I'm waiting to submit it until Monday, so please get your order and payment to me by then. We only do one t-shirt order per year, so the time is now!

God's care is over all the works His hands. Nothing is too great to be directed by Him; nothing is too small to escape His notice. —ST, Mar. 20, 1884

NEW MISSION PROJECT

For the last seven years, IHAS has sponsored a young man in Guatemala through International Children's Care. Francisco Javier has now grown up, and it is time for us to select a different mission project. During the rainy season in Myanmar, finding water isn't a problem. But when the rainy season ends, water sources dry up and become more contaminated. Villagers have to travel up to several miles just to get one bucket of dirty water. Mothers especially struggle, since they have to leave their young children and breastfeeding infants at home for long periods of time while they fetch water. The mothers worry that their young unsupervised children will fall from the raised platforms their houses are built on and be injured, or worse. But there's nobody else to fetch water for them! Students waste learning hours fetching water for the toilets and for drinking, and return to their studies with their clothes wet, making it harder to focus. With your generous support of ASAP well-building projects, entire communities can have quick access to clean water so they can spend more time learning about the Living Water of Jesus! This year, let's all work together to sponsor a well for a village! I'd love to hear ways the students (or anyone) is doing creative things to generate funds for this project. Our mission fair this year will be (at least in part) on behalf of this project as well.

FIRST DAY COMMITMENT SERVICE

Pastor Jason Logan and Elder Ron Wright came for our first day of school. Pastor Logan shared a message about Samuel and the words he spoke, "Speak, Lord, Your servant is listening." He challenged the students to be as quick/faithful to answer the Lord's calling on their lives. At the end of the service we gathered in a circle and Mr. Wright and the pastor prayed a blessing over all of us. We are thankful for our pastor and the rest of our church family who support us in so many ways and pray for us.
